

David Wells

Friday Afternoon

2008 is off to a strong start with the release of David Wells' 7th CD, "Friday Afternoon". This full length album will be released in February on both Nuance and Little Fish Records. "Friday Afternoon" is a collection of original instrumental pieces which reaches out and touches the listener's heart and soul.

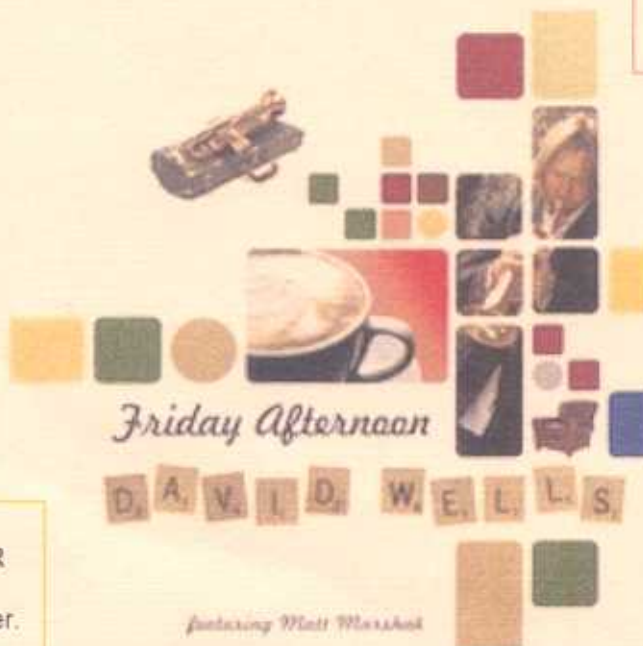

Jazz show host Larry Hollowell spoke of the cruise performance praising that, "Wells' soaring trumpet carved riveting melodies...Wells' facility on his horn is masterful, to say the least. His tone is boldly exciting and immediately engaging."

Wells shares his musical gift with the release of six CDs and with approximately 200 shows per year. In 2006, the release of "More Love, More Power," brought national acclaim on smooth jazz radio and reached #13 on the R&R indicators. Additionally, his performance of Strawberry Letter #23 was charted at #10 in early 2007.

David's career soared in 2007 after moving to #10 on the R&R indicators, and becoming endorsed with Conn and Selmer. His television and sports appearances included airing in Columbus Blue Jackets on ESPN2 and performing for the Cincinnati Reds. David Wells was also featured in several Christian music magazines and networks, WTAP-TV's (NBC) "Daybreak," and numerous Christian conferences.

David's music is so engaging his holiday single, "Deck the Halls" hit #1 as the most added song on Smooth Jazz Radio Stations Nationwide such as Chicago, Miami, Orlando, NYC, and many more. He also hit #8 in the Top 10 most spin increase listing Nationwide.

In 2007, David's career has expanded to include a guest appearance on the national television show "Studio Jams" which has over 10 million viewers on the BET Network. In November 2007, he was an entertainer aboard the luxurious Sovereign of the Seas, a smooth jazz cruise.
